Hart House Restaurant at Deer Lake Hosts Maritime Style Lobster Supper

For Immediate Release

May 15, 2007 (Vancouver, BC) – On Wednesday, June 27th 2007, guests at the Hart House at Deer Lake will be treated to a feast of fresh Nova Scotia lobster prepared by renowned Executive Chef Dennis Peckham. The succulent seafood menu at the Lobster Supper will be paired with selected wines from a list specially selected by the Hart House's resident sommelier, Paul Garbini.

Guests at the Lobster Supper will be invited to partake in an hour of wine sampling before dinner. The sampling will take place on the elegant grounds of the Hart House's grand estate, and live maritime music will fill the summer evening's air. Diners may then choose to purchase a bottle or two of the wines they have tasted to accompany their dinner. Executive Chef Dennis Peckham will present a menu that will demonstrate just how alluring seafood can be when it is prepared to perfection.

Chef Peckham has generated a lot of excitement among food lovers since joining the staff at the Hart House late last year. His resume is a catalogue of fine dining establishments on the west coast: after graduating from Vancouver's Dubrulle Culinary Institute in 2000 he worked at Lumière Restaurant and subsequently was the Chef de Partie at Napa Valley's prestigious French Laundry, one of the most celebrated restaurants in North America. When he returned to British Columbia he joined the team at Vancouver's award-winning West Restaurant. Chef Peckham favours French cooking techniques but he says that the freshness and integrity of the ingredients are paramount in any dish. At the Lobster Supper he will prepare Nova Scotia lobster fresh from the Maritimes.
